

'Let's Learn'

We have been learning about:

09.03.18

Happy March!

Although unsure where the time is going - we are sure that your children continue to work with enthusiasm and vivacity in class. They really are flying and are a credit to you all.

This week we have been finishing our botany work, completing our sixth week of observations on our chitting potatoes. We will now plant them out (if the ground ever warms up!) We also spent time celebrating our Mum's, creating with a range of media and preparing for special Mother's Day Assembly. Have a lovely day everyone!

In our phonics we set ourselves the challenge to read at speed all of our sound diagraphs (two sound words) at speed! We look forward to seeing which of our superstars will be able to do this!

We also continue to work with the vowel families introduced so far and have been practising writing polysyllabic words.

This week we wrote reports about China, recalling what we know about the country and the continent of Asia.

Next week, we will begin our new study of zoology, beginning with some very special visitors (but let's keep that between us, so it's a surprise!)

Dates for your diary

Midpoint review meeting - 16th March at 2.30PM

Visit to the local church - TBC

Trip to Ash End Farm - 27th March

Easter service - 29th March

Thank you to everyone who attended our reading morning. Please do come between 8.45 and 9am each week to share in our reading activities.

As our children reach statutory school age, we are required to offer challenge at home. Each week we will now send home a challenge folder, which we ask you to complete with your child and then return to school the following Wednesday of each week.

This is an important extension to support their ongoing learning, so please do try to complete each challenge. Thank you.
